Death of Josiah Howell.

After a severe illness of ten weeks, Josiah Howell, this morning at half past ten o'clock, Monday, June 11, 1894, found release in death. For many weeks the progress of his disease has been anxiously watched and the inquiries as to his condition have been frequent; for Mr. Howell during his sixteen years' residence in Dixon has made many friends, socially and in his business relations. A man of strictest integrity, he was a valued and highly respected citizen whose friendship was sought and esteemed.

Mr. Josiah Howell was born in Newton, Long Island, September 8, 1829, where his early life was spent. He has been, however, considerable of a traveler, having circumnavigated the globe and visited most of its countries of importance. During the Australian gold fever of 1853 he visited that country, and while there married his first wife, Eliza Clark, in 1865. To them four children were born, two of whom only are living—Annie E. and Robert H. Their mother died in New York in 1871.

In 1874, Mr. Howell was married in Southington, Connecticut, to Mrs. Eliza Beach, who survives him. They removed to Dixon in 1878, and have lived here ever since. The funeral will be from the family residence, 258 Peoria avenue, on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. Samuel Earngey conducting the service.

Fight to a Finish.

A terrible fight occurred Saturday night about 8 o'clock on the Smith & Lord farm down the river, as a result of which Bud Newman lies at the home of his mother on Ottawa avenue, seriously injured, and Horace Hill, terriably cut and bruised, boards with Sheriff Stainbrook, their trial being postponed until Wednesday. These fishermen had heard that they were accused of taking milk from the several farms in the neighborhood of their camp and Bud was up to the barn talking the report over with Joseph, Lambert who works the farm, and Hop Hill coming suddenly on the scene and thinking a row was in progress, launched himself at the old man, who was through the late war and knows how to fight, and as the sons of the old man, David Lambert, and Joe, jr., and a farm hand named Albert Reece, joined in the fight, Bud Newman was forced in to save his companion if he he could. But he could not, and they both got terribly punished. Milk stools, stones, spades and clubs were freely used and blood flowed on both sides, but the farmers outnumbered the fishermen two to one and won the victory, leaving Hop and Bud for dead on the ground. Lambert came to town and told the story of the fight to the police and at four o'clock Sunday morning Sheriff Stainbrook, Marshal Rall and Constable Ramsey went down and found that the fishermen had been able to get to their boat house; and brought them to Dixon.

The Democratic Caucus

At the court house Saturday evening was well attended and enthusiastic, clearly indicating that the hard times has not dampened partisan spirit in the least. The leading speakers were Theo. Wilson, M. J. Gannon and Attorney Brooks. The latter got in his work a little too late to be effective as his favorite candidate had been knocked out long before his enthusiasm became public. Attorneys in attempting to run a caucus should not forget that the slow procees of court proceedings don't go in the dash natural to politics. Delays in court may be "water on a lawyer's wheel," but Mr. Brooks must remember that procrastination in a caucus steals away your candidate's chances for success.

Michael Maloney appeared to be Dixon's favorite son for Representative and, really, it appeared that Mr. Wilson, Palmyra's chosen leader, was "not in it" Saturday evening. He must depend upon the rural district for backing when at Amboy on Thursday.

Prof. Hartwell attended the caucus, but there was too much partisanship and neat Italian fine-hand wire-pulling to suit him and so he announced that if that was an exhibition of Democracy, they could consistently count him out.

We do not believe that the Professor is very well adapted to the peculiarly precarious business of manipulating a political caucus. His speech had too much sound sense in it to be well received.

A. E. Simonson was chosen chairman and Joe. Rouland secretary. The following delegates were chosen to represent Dixon at the Amboy convention next Thursday:

Sherwood Dixon, George Steel, C. H. Thomann, John Reagan, John H. Cropsey, George M. DeLand, M. J. Gannon, Jas. Devine, N. P. McKenney, F. R. Hanlon, Jos. Rueland, L. T. Merriam, M. Jordan, P. Whalen, J. W. Emerson, Louis Dixon, Gus Schweinburg, John H. Loftus, P. McCoy, J. W. Beemer, A. E. Simonson, Thos. Gaffney, Blake Grover, H. A. Brown, Jas. B. Charters.

—A prominent Democrat on the wan ning side in Saturday night's caucus, explains that his opponents had one scheme to work and when that was check-mated they were all at sea: while he had three schemes, any one of which would reach the same result.

—The Grand Detour Plow shops are shut down for their annual inventory and repairs. The spring trade in their goods was unusually early this year and sooner ended; the closing down usually occurs in July. The shops will start up again as soon as the trade warrants it.

—There was always a mystery, politically speaking, connected with the Carnegie riots, near Pittsburg, just before the last Presidential election. At all events the rupture at those iron works had much to do in the defeat of Harrison. When the election was over it was announced that Carnegie himself was opposed to the McKinley tariff and really favored free trade. Now comes the Chicago Times, which should be good Democratic authority, and says that the Carnegie company gave $50 000 to the Democratic campaign fund of 1892.

FOUR BIT THE DUST.

Another Tragedy Takes Place in the Coke Regions.

MOB ATTACKS HALF A DOZEN MEN

Who Are Compelled to Use the Cold Lead Argument in Self Defense.

Some Interesting Events That Led Up to the "Killing"—Treatment Given Four Men Who Would Work—Pana, Ills., in a State of Siege—Chicago Military on Guard There—Governor McKinley's Contribution Returned by Officials of the Ohio Strike—Deputy Sheriffs Fired on by Cripple Creek Strikers.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 11.—The truce is ended and again the armed deputies in the coke region have made a killing. One striker killed in his boots, two others dying and a fourth shot through is the result of a battle at Lemont. There were six deputies on the one side and a mob of strikers on the other. Unbiased testimony is to the effect that the mob not only provoked, but compelled the deputies to fire on them after the strikers had compelled them to retreat and had fired several shots at them. The circumstances leading up to this latest of the many tragedies of the coke region had been developing since Saturday afternoon. Four American workmen—John Delaney, Oliver Attleby, John Britt and James Furlough, who live at Leisenring, have been working at the Frick Coke company's Valley works for some time.

Captured and Maltreated by Strikers.

They went to New Haven Saturday afternoon, where they were to take the Leisenring electric road for home, where they had not been for a month. As soon as they alighted from the train at New Haven they were surrounded by a mob of several hundred strikers. The strikers first beat the four men and then put tags on them bearing the inscription, "blacklegs," also covering them with chalk marks. They then marched their prisoners to all the works on the line from New Haven south, holding them up as decorated samples of "scabs" for the revilings and abuse of strikers everywhere. The four prisoners were subjected to all manner of insults and indignities, to such an extent that many of the more rational strikers protested that it was cruel and cowardly for so many men to assault four helpless fellows in that way.

Deputies to the Rescue.

The Frick Coke company was informed of the perilous position their workmen were in. Field Deputy Matt Allen and six men were sent to New Haven on the evening train. They were misled by false information and it was daylight when the squad of tired deputies reached Lemont, where the fight took place. They had been joined by Superintendent Slater, of the Leisenring plant. Not long after daylight the men began to assemble on the commons by the hundred. They engaged in the wildest demonstrations, and it is thought that they then had the four captives in their possession.

Surrounded by a Howling Mob.

When the deputies were discovered the mob raised a howl and surrounded them. Many of the strikers had revolvers and all carried clubs. They moved against the deputies, who retreated under a shower of clubs and stones. Riding up to the advancing crowd of miners Deputy Allen told them to go back, saying that he did not want any trouble and that there would be trouble if he or his men were attacked and injured. The answer to Allen was a general yell, and one of the striker covered him with his pistol and fired.

WAS A CLOSE SHAVE FOR ALLEN.

Deputies Open Fire and Mob Keeps Up the Fusillade.

The shot was a close shave for the top of Allen's head. The deputies opened fire together, and the strikers stood to it and fought gamely. The first shots were fired by them, and they fired as coolly and rapidly as did the deputies and they kept closing in on the men who were working the Winchesters until they were driven to the extreme end of the company's ground, where they made a stand. By that time three of the strikers were down and several others were wounded.

When the deputies stopped and prepared to fight it out there the mob recoiled. The instant the strikers stopped firing the officers stopped also, glad enough to have things go that way. The strikers began at once to carry away the wounded. The dead man and two who were fatally wounded were left in the road where they fell, but there were others who were able to get away with a little assistance. There were so many shots fired at close range that a number of the strikers must have been hit.

Allen estimated that fifty or sixty shots were fired by both sides. It was not strictly a battle of bullets, as those of the strikers who were not armed were busy throwing stones. The only injuries inflicted on the deputies were by such missiles. Deputies armed with search warrants have been going through all the houses in the vicinity, but up to a late hour not a trace of the four men held as prisoners by the strikers have been seen, and it is feared that they have been murdered by the strikers in revenge for the loss of the men hurt in the battle.

The deputies identified six of the more active strikers in the fight, and subsequently arrested them. They are now in jail together with six others arrested later. All the killed and wounded are Slavs. Deputies are scouring the country for the four men captured by the strikers, but at this writing nothing has been heard of them. The search will be kept until they are found dead or alive, although as stated in the foregoing, it is feared they have been murdered by the strikers. Everywhere the strikers are sullenly furious over the killing at Lemont, and the worst is feared for the poor fellows who are known to be in their power.

The reason the deputies did not find the captured men is that they were tricked by the strikers, who had mobs in all directions and when one mob was too closely pressed by pursuit the four prisoners were handed over to another and the former gathering would disperse to their homes. The prisoners were especially ill-treated when their captors marched them to their homes, where the women and children slapped and spat upon them and called them vile names.

Strikers Burn Another Bridge.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 11.—The Ohio militia in camp at Wheeling Creek, three miles west of the river, were fired on by some persons in the hills at frequent intervals during the night from midnight till morning, and in a few cases the sentinels returned the fire, but so far as known no bloodshed resulted. In the morning the strikers burned 144 feet of a bridge at Goshen, west of Wheeling Creek.

MINERS GO INTO CAMP NEAR PANA.

Two Bodies of Strikers Confronted by Chicago Troops and Citizens.

CHICAGO, June 11.—At last the military of Chicago has been called into the field to help the authorities in the coal regions maintain the law and the peace, the First regiment with two Gatling guns having received orders to go to Pana. The regiment was almost ready to march and in a short time was en route for the seat of war. The cause of this order was a message received by Governor Altgeld at Springfield from the sheriff at Pana saying: "Striking miners are arriving here in large numbers from all directions. Trouble is imminent and great danger at hand. Send plenty of troops at once."

The situation at Pana was simply this: A large mob of strikers was camped three miles northwest of Pana, provisioned for a week's stay and declaring they would not leave until permitted to confer with the men at work in the mines. The sheriff had called on all good citizens for help, and the mayor had issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to keep the peace, directing the women and children to keep within doors, and commanding all citizens over 18 to assemble at the city hall to aid in enforcing the laws. To both calls the citizens had responded and the town was an armed camp.

The strikers in town were keeping up communication with those out of town and going out to join them. One gang that went out took two wagon loads of alleged provisions that are believed to have been arms and ammunition, and when this suspicion arose communication was stopped. Farmers in town trading, seeing the look of things, left town for home quickly, and the place was practically in a state of siege. It was estimated that by this morning there would be 1,000 strikers in this neighborhood, and that they proposed to live at the expense of the city. When the leader of the invaders, however, applied to the mayor for food he was promptly refused.

The Chicago troops reached Pana in due and quick time, and went into camp at Sportsmen's park. Meantime another mob of strikers approached the place and camped two miles north. Then it was that the strikers changed tactics and attempted to get into Pana by stealth—in couples and trios. This was headed off as much as possible, and the arrival of the troops did not relieve the deputy sheriffs from duty nor did it prevent the strikers from committing an outrage right in Pana, for they drove out a man and family named Shehan from his home in the northwestern part of the town because he has persisted in the constitutional right of working.

Rioters Captured Near Peoria.

FIRED ON DEPUTY SHERIFFS.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 11.—A party of fifteen deputies, while approaching Bull Hill on their way from camp to this place, were fired upon from ambush by twenty miners. The deputies being unprepared for an attack retreated without returning the fire. General Brooks called out enough militia to surround the miners and arrested them. No one was injured. General Brooks says his force may not be large enough to protect all the mining property about here. Should this prove the case he will press into service the deputies now on the ground.

It got out somehow that Sheriff Bowers had said that he had lost control of his deputies, who refused to obey him. This getting to Governor Waite's ears he sent orders to General Brooks to treat the deputies as armed marauders, and if the general had not force enough to call on the governor who would call out the unorganized militia in force sufficient. The report was false and Bowers so denounced it as soon as it came to his ears, while Commissioner Boynton, who has charge of the deputies, wired C. S. Thomas, of Denver, his attorney, for advice in the matter upon being told of Waite's move.

Thomas replied: "The sheriff of the county, engaged in enforcing order, subduing or attempting to subdue armed resistance to the law or the authorities, or in overcoming those who defy the service of process, is discharging the obligations of his office and maintaining civil government. In doing this he may call to his aid and deputize as many citizens as may be necessary and no power, not even the federal government, has lawful authority to interfere with or disarm him."

Frank Wolfe, financial secretary of the miners' union, who was arrested by the deputies, has been released, as he was under parole of General Brooks. General Brooks will take charge of all persons arrested by the sheriff and escort them to Colorado Springs, where they will be turned over again to the sheriff.

DECLINED M'KINLEY'S MONEY.

Striking Miners at Massillon Decline Cash He Contributed Last May.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—A special to The Commercial Gazette from Massillon, O., says that the miners' relief committee of Massillon has returned to Governor McKinley the $10 he contributed to their subscription for the relief of unemployed miners on the 29th of May, which he spoke of in his letter of transmission as his "mite." Here is the letter of the relief committee:

"SIR: Enclosed you will find $10, your donation to the miners of Massillon. They emphatically refuse to accept a 'mite' from the hand that assisted in smiting them. Your donation was solicited because the miners believed you were at least in as much sympathy with them as the ordinary every-day citizen, but since you have divested yourself of your covering and your true character stands out in glowing colors they abhor the contamination of your charity. Your ambition in a political way, so far as the miners are concerned, is sure to be gratified henceforth. [Signed]

"JOHN WILHELM, President."
"EDWARD MILLER, Treasurer."
"JAMES BROWN, Secretary."

Some Doings in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—Dispatches from the disturbed mining regions report the following incidents:

At Wheeling Rock a sharpshooter fired on the sentinels from a tree until driven therefrom by some well directed shots.

At East Liverpool a private of the O. N. G. was absent from the city when his regiment was called. He followed, but at Deninson was attacked by a mob of strikers, having to take refuge in a hotel.

Two men on guard at a trestle near New Philadelphia were driven away by a mob of 400 and the trestle burned—this to prevent the hauling of "scab" coal.

At Bellaire the strikers held a meeting and adopted resolutions in which they showed the utmost bitterness in denouncing Sheriff Matthew M. Scott, of Belmont county, for calling on the governor for troops, as they put it, to come here and prevent them from enforcing their rights where recognition was denied them by the coal operators. The resolutions also denounced the governor in the most violent terms.

MOVES TO SETTLE THE STRIKE

A Success In Iowa—Meeting at St. Louis a Failure—At Columbus.

OSKALOOSA, June 11.—Fifteen coal companies met the Iowa mine workers here and reached an agreement which restores rates in the Centerville and Des Moines districts so far as this meeting can do it. No Des Moines or Centerville operators were present. The scale is to be the same as 1893 and stand to April 1, 1895. No men are to be blacklisted because they struck. Complaints will be heard by operators and adjusted. The companies also agreed to pay to a designated committee such sum as the men individually contributed to be used as a strike fund in the attempt to get other miners out.

The Meeting at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—A conference was held here between operators and miners in Illinois—the Consolidated not being represented—at which the miners made an offer which the operators declined on the ground that it would prevent them marketing their coal. The operators then offered the same wages as before the strike, they to employ who they pleased—union or non-union, preference being given to old men. Exceptions were made for the DuQuoin and Peoria districts where the parties were to settle their own trouble, and for Grape Creek, Danville and Glenview districts where the summer price offered was 35 cents and 38 in winter mine run. For screen the prices were 50 and 55 cents. The men rejected the proposition.

Conference at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 11.—Another conference of operators and miners has been held here. M. H. Taylor, of the operators, said they were present with the understanding that a national agreement would not be insisted on and that nearly all the Pittsburg operators would agree to a fair proposition. A scale committee was appointed and it worked until midnight on a scale, practically agreeing on a basis of 60 cents for Ohio and 69 for western Pennsylvania.

Situation in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, June 11.—Governor McCorkle is evidently perplexed at the condition of affairs at Boggs' Run. He receives telegrams at one time stating that the trouble is over at a place, and in a short time another telegram that it has broken out again. The fact is that the strikers on being baffled at one point assemble at another and stop trains. The governor says that this shall not continue if it takes the whole military force of the state to stop it. He thinks something more than a "show" of force is needed.

Everything Quiet at Sullivan.

SULLIVAN, Ind., June 11.—Disturbances growing out of the miners' strike have subsided. It is the general opinion that the master spirits have fled or have hidden from the civil officers. The people of Shelburn have sent a committee to Indianapolis to ask the governor to recall the troops and proposinge to give pledges that no more violence will be used against the transportation of coal.

Two Women Rioters Jailed.

TRINIDAD, Colo., June 11.—At the Sopris mines a party of women—wives of the miners—stationed themselves at the opening of the mine and attempted by abusive language and throwing stones to prevent the men from going to work. A Mexican miner was dumped in the mud and pounded with stones. Two of the most vicious women were jailed.

The Murder of Engineer Barr.

BRAZIL, Ind., June 11.—Of the twelve suspects arrested for the murder of Engineer Barr nine are now in jail; three, Ed Monk, Thomas Quigley and Thomas Evarts were released on a bond of $400 each.

WENT THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Woman Drowned, Man Missing and Another Man Badly Hurt.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 11.—The westbound express went through a bridge near here, the bridge having been weakened by fire, and the locomotive and four cars were wrecked and nearly the whole train burned. Mrs. Barker, of Ontario, was drowned; Express Messenger Brown, of Toronto, is missing and probably dead and it is feared that others perished. Fireman Whitehead was hurt so badly that he may not recover, and a few others were slightly hurt. All mail and express matter and baggage was destroyed.

Senate and House in Brief.

WASHINGTON, June 11. The senate disposed of the agricultural schedule in the tariff bill and entered on the consideration of the schedule of spirits, wines and liquors. Many of the Jones amendments were withdrawn, leaving the finance committee's amendments to stand. An executive session was held. The five minute rule was extended over Monday.

The house put in the day on the Indian bill, but made slow progress, only covering seven and a half pages of a bill with 137½ pages.

EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Station in Indian Territory Looted by Bandits.

TWO MASKED MEN EXECUTE THE JOB

A Large Sum of Money Believed to Have Been Stolen, It Being Some of That Paid Indians at Tahlequah—A Bloodthirsty Brigand Does Deadly Work Near Tahlequah, and Is Shot to Pieces After Killing a Woman and Boy.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 11.—The railroad station and express office at Fort Gibson, I. T., was held up and robbed by two masked men about 11:30 at night. The exact amount of money secured by the robbers is not known, but it will probably aggregate a large amount, it being thought that the express packages stolen contained large sums, as a great deal of cash paid to the Cherokees at Talequah has been shipped by express from Fort Gibson. It is known that $600 in cash was secured, $100 of which belonged to the Kansas and Arkansas Valley railroad.

Threatened to Blow His Head Off.

Two masked men entered the station and at the point of Winchesters compelled H. S. Gibson, the railroad agent and express agent to unlock the safe, threatening to blow his head off if he did not obey their command. After rifling the safe the robbers relieved the agent and night operator of their valuables, securing besides $600 in cash and all the valuable express packages in the office and several watches and other jewelry. Peck Bruner, the most noted and daring deputy marshal in the territory, was in the vicinity of Fort Gibson and at once organized a posse and started on horseback in pursuit of the robbers.

Rather Expected What Happened.

This is the second time the station at Fort Gibson has been robbed in six months. The men who perpetrated the former robbery are now in jail in Fort Smith awaiting trial. There is no clue to the perpetrators of this last robbery, but it was not wholly unexpected, as it was known that the big Cherokee payment now in progress at Tahlequah would attract the tough element to that section. More trouble is expected before the payment is concluded.

MISCREANT SHOT TO PIECES.

He Wounds a Man and Kills a Boy and a Woman First.

WAGONER, I. T., June 11.—There was robbery and sensational tragedy enacted on the road between Fort Gibson and Tahlequah, where the big Cherokee payment is in progress. A stage loaded with passengers was some miles out from Tahlequah en route to Fort Gibson, the railroad station, when Sanders, a desperate Cherokee character who was on the front seat with the driver, punched the driver in the side with his pistol and ordered him to hold up. He then made the passengers get out and robbed them of about $70 and some jewelry. One man from Texas, who declined to give his name, was shot through the breast because he had no money to give up. The wounded man is now in Fort Gibson in a critical condition, the bullet having passed through the left lung.

The robber then left, walking through the woods in the direction of Tahlequah. He found a man and an Indian boy herding some cattle and began shooting at the boy and killed him. He then mounted the horse the boy was riding and again emerged into the road, where he came upon two wagons containing two men and some women. He shot into one of them and killed Mrs. Duncan, a lady who is connected with one of the best families of the Cherokee nation. Her son, Levi Duncan, was with her. He drew his pistol and began shooting at Sanders, as also did the men who were in the other wagon, but he was getting away on his horse when young Duncan got a Winchester from the wagon and shot the horse. Sanders then afoot could not escape. He was literally shot to pieces.

BLOODY WORK WITH AN AX.

John Kane Nearly Murders Five Men Before His Capture.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Five men were the victims of John Kane's wrath in the Deering street district and are lying in hospitals or their homes under the care of physicians as a result of a quarrel which originated between Kane and a blacksmith named Charles Fisher, in the latter's shop at 3820 Ashland avenue. The injured are: Thomas Birmingham, patrolman, cuts on the head; Charles Fisher, stabbed in the breast; Ernest Grumwald, cut on the head; Joseph Schultz, cut on the head; James Riley, cut on the head—none fatally hurt. Early in the evening Kane became involved in a political discussion with Fisher. The discussion resulted in Kane stabbing Fisher in the left breast.

Kane then went away but returned later with an ax. Finding the men above named attending to the wounded Fisher, Kane made a rush with uplifted ax, and when he reached them he struck wildly at each of them. Before he could be restrained Riley, Grumwald and Schultz were lying on the floor with severe cuts in their heads. Officer Thomas Birmingham reached the scene while the fight was in progress and attempted to arrest Kane. He received a violent blow upon the head from the ax and was knocked to the floor. Kane dashed out of the blacksmith's shop and ran away. He was arrested later and locked up at the Deering street station.

Bloody Fight at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 11.—A crowd of Poles and Bohemians became intoxicated at a dance in a hall at the corner of Forty-eighth and Goodspeed streets and about midnight, when a party of about twenty left the hall for their homes they became involved in a row with a number of people they met. The result was two killed and four seriously injured. The dead are: Peter Getz and Frank Golunesk, Poles.

DEFIED THE CANADIAN NAVY.

An American Schooner That First Defied Canadian Laws.

PORT HAWKESBURY, Cape Breton, June 11.—The Canadian cruiser Vigilant recently anchored here and the American fishing schooner Lorring B. Haskell (Captain Day) anchored at Hastings. The schooner proceeded to take in water without entering at the custom house. This was contrary to the customs laws, but Captain Day refused to comply with the regulations even after receiving notice from the customs officers. Word was then sent to the commander of the Vigilant, but Captain Day learned of it and immediately prepared for sea, making such a hurried departure that two men who were filling water barrels were left behind.

The commander of the Vigilant manned a boat, rowed out to the schooner as she was sailing out of port, and ordered her to report to the customs office. This Captain Day refused to do. The Vigilant then fired a shot, but it had no further effect than to clear the American schooner's deck of all hands except the man at the wheel. All sail was spread and the schooner glided out to sea, bidding defiance to the Canadian naval vessel.

Chapman's name will be given to the senate to be certified to the district attorney as a recalcitrant witness.

FIRE WORKS HAVOC

Two Large Buildings at Kansas City Destroyed.

FARMING TOOLS REDUCED TO ASHES.

Narrow Escape of a Family from Being Crushed to Death—Two Buildings Collapse Under the Weight of the Falling Walls of the Devoured Structures—Several Persons Seriously Injured—Estimated Loss $310,000—The Dubuque Blaze.

KANSAS CITY, June 11.—A general alarm was sent in from the corner of Thirteenth and Hickory streets for a fire which was raging on the third floor of the building owned and occupied by the Keystone Implement company, 1,317 to 1,321 West Thirteenth street. The fire had been burning quite a while before the fire department arrived on the spot and the flames had gotten beyond control. The burning building was a four-story brick and was stocked with all sorts of farming implements, as well as harness, etc.

Spreads to Another Building.

The firemen worked hard to confine the flames to the Keystone building, but the stock of paints and oils fed the flames, which leaped in the air from fifty to 100 feet and were quickly communicated to the Buford and George Manufacturing company's building, 1311 to 1315, on the east. This firm also manufactures agricultural implements and their stock was a large one. The department fought the flames on all sides and succeeded in keeping the fire within the two structures named, but both buildings and contents were entirely destroyed, even the walls having fallen.

Walls Fall on a Residence.

About 6 o'clock the west wall of the Keystone building fell and crushed an adjoining frame dwelling occupied by Charles Piercey. The family had left its home and was thus saved from death. The Birch House, occupied by Jasper P. Pope, was also crushed, and Mr. Pope was seriously injured. James Donnelly, of Hook and Ladder company No. 1, was also caught under the falling wall and his injuries are serious. His pelvic bone was fractured and he was burned about the head.

Aggregate Loss of $310,000.

Pat Abern, another fireman, was slightly injured; William Radell suffered the dislocation of his collar bone. About 7:30 another part of the wall fell and James Marvin was injured about the hips. The losses aggregate about $310,000 divided as follows: Keystone Implement company, loss, $130,000; insurance, $80,000; Buford and George Manufacturing company, loss, $180,000; insurance, $80,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BLAZE IN THE LUMBER DISTRICT.

DUBUQUE, June 11.—The fire that swept through the lumber district of this city caused a loss as revised from first accounts of $400,000. The quantity of lumber destroyed was about 25,000,000 feet. The fire was caused by a spark from a Chicago and Great Western locomotive, which alighted in Lesure's lumber yard. The yard was full of sawdust and mill refuse, with which the company has been engaged in raising the yard above high water mark and instantly the mass was aflame.

Wind from the east carried the fire with alarming rapidity about a crescent lined with lumber and bounding the sloughs from Sixth street to Eleventh. A slough intervening between it and Lesure's mill, together with the direction of the wind, saved the mill and the most of the yard of the Standard Lumber company, but everything west along the crescent was ablaze within an hour, and appeals for assistance were wired to Freeport, Clinton and other towns near by.

The sufferers are the Lesure Lumber company, the Knapp-Stout Lumber company, the Standard Lumber company, Dubuque Buggy-Top company and some other concerns and buildings, the three first being the heaviest losers. A boy named Carl Falka had his feet badly burned and a child named Stevenson and A. A. Cooper were run over by wagons. No one was fatally hurt, however. Several hundred men are thrown out of work.

No Hope for a Silver Conference.

BERLIN, June 11.—Herr Ludwig Bamberger, an eminent authority on the subject of bimetallism and a member of the silver commission, declares that after twenty-one days of earnest discussion not only had no tangible result been arrived at, but the meetings of the commission have furnished overwhelming proof that in the future no conference, either national or international, will arrive at a different result.

Salaries of Railway Clerks.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The senate has passed a bill fixing the salaries of railway postal clerks. It provides that they shall be divided into seven classes. The salaries for each class shall not exceed the following amounts annually: First class, $800; second class, $1,000; third class, $1,200; fourth class, $1,300; fifth class, $1,500; sixth class, $1,600; seventh class, $1,800.

The Stanford Estate Again.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Senator Hoar has followed up his effort to have the judiciary committee investigate the claim of the government against the estate of the late Senator Stanford with a bill to release the government's claim on the estate so far as the estate has been or may have been given to the Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

Coxey a Free Man Again.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Coxey, Browne and Christopher Columbus Jones have been released from jail. They were met at the door of the jail by Oklahoma Sam driving four horses attached to Coxey's phæton. The four proceeded to the National hotel, and later started for the Coxey camp in Bladensburg.

Receiver for the Switchmen.

CHICAGO, June 11.—J. C. Wilson has been appointed receiver for the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association upon application of George Rutter, who holds unsatisfied judgments of $1,050 against the association. The receiver's bond was fixed at $5,000.

The Weather We May Expect.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following are the weather indications for twenty-four hours from 8 p. m. yesterday: For Indiana and Illinois—Fair weather; southerly or southwesterly winds. For Michigan and Wisconsin—Fair weather; slightly warmer; southerly winds. For Iowa—Violent thunder showers in northwestern portion, fair in southeastern portion; southerly winds.

HE HAS A FANCY FOR FIGURES.

Edward Atkinson's Achievements as a Political and Social Economist.

For something like 40 years Edward Atkinson has been known to the business world as an expert in insurance statistics and financial statements, and for 30 years of that time he has been familiar to magazine readers and on the lecture platform as an economist and instructor in the philosophy of great and small things. In personal appearance Mr. Atkinson is a large, handsome man, his hair and beard white with the snows of 67 years. He was born in Brookline, Mass., Feb. 10, 1827, and educated principally at private schools. When 15 years old, he went to Boston and secured employment as a clerk, and a few years later he had risen to the position of treasurer of various manufacturing companies.

EDWARD ATKINSON.

Mr. Atkinson is what is known as a self made man, but he evidently is not highly impressed with the self made theory. He says of his own education, "It was that which most men got who are commonly called self made men, an expression in regard to which I fully concur with the late Francis Lieber, who said, 'You might as well talk of a self laid egg.'"

The reputation Mr. Atkinson has made results principally from numerous pamphlets and papers that he has contributed to current literature on economic topics. The subjects embrace banking, competition, cotton, free trade, mechanical arts and protection. Among his most important addresses was "Banking," delivered at Saratoga before the American Bankers' association, and "What Makes the Rate of Wages," before the British Association For the Advancement of Science.

In 1886 he began the preparation of a series of monographs on economic questions for periodical publication. His efforts were responsible for the establishment of the Boston Manufacturers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, an association consisting of a number of manufacturers, who for their mutual protection adopted rules and regulations for the economical and judicious management of their plants. He has also devoted some thought to household economy and invented an improved cooking stove.

He is an honorary member of the Phi Beta Kappa society of Harvard, a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, a fellow of the American Association For the Advancement of Science, a member of several other scientific associations and of the famous Cobden club of Great Britain, and he has received the degree of LL. D. from the University of South Carolina and that of Ph. D. from Dartmouth.

ENTERPRISING WOMEN.

Beneficent Work of the Buffalo Women's Educational and Industrial Union.

The Woman's Educational and Industrial union of Buffalo was founded 10 years ago, Mrs. Abby Morton Diaz of Boston being the inspiration and Mrs. Harriet A. Townsend, the first and present president, organizer and promoter. This is the largest institution of the kind in this country, with the exception of a similar one in Boston, there being 1,000 members and as many more being expected on the completion of the new home next fall. The purpose of the union is "to increase fellowship among women in order to promote the best practical methods for securing their educational, industrial and social advancement." To Mrs. Townsend's business ability and tact is due the success which the union has attained. No religious forms are observed, and Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew have joined equally in the work, and Mrs. Townsend claims that this is the secret of its remarkable growth and prosperity. The various officers are selected solely because of their executive ability and not for wealth or social position.

The kitchen garden is the largest in the world, and arrangements have been made on a still larger scale for the new building. The object of the kitchen garden is to make children more useful in their own homes. They are taught to set the table, make beds, sweep, sew, cook and to manage a household economically and with the least effort.

Physical culture is another of the departments and includes a fully equipped gymnasium. The committee of protection attends to the rights of working women from the divorce case to the broken dish of the kitchen girl. This committee has collected sums aggregating nearly $10,000 due women who earn their own living. A curious fact is that a large proportion of the complaints arose from the slow payment of dressmakers' bills.

Other departments are a free library and reading room, educational classes, lectures and coteries, an employment bureau, relief for the poor and literary and musical entertainments. A pet project of the president is the establishment of a room which shall serve to raise ideals, in which shall be kept a complete record of women's work, scientific, literary and historical collections, copies of famous pictures, autographs, books and the portraits and busts of famous women.

The Buffalo union secured the passage through the legislature of the bill requiring the appointment of a woman physician on the medical staff of every insane hospital in the state of New York, and was also solely responsible for the measure amending the guardianship law so as to give the mother equal rights with the father in the care and custody of children. The spirit of equality and good fellowship prevails in the union, and its future is full of bright promise of good to be done.

Five Cent Baths.

Walter Rauschenbusch, a New Yorker, is anxious to construct a model bathhouse occupying an entire block. The baths will be for men and women and the popular price 5 cents. Rauschenbusch says that there were 3,750,000 baths taken in the free bathhouses of New York last summer.

Russian Images.

The manufacture of ikons, the sacred images so universally venerated by the orthodox Russians, forms a very considerable household industry in the governments of Vladimir and Kursk, where from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 ikons are yearly produced. These images are painted on lime tree, alder and aspen boards by boys, girls, adults and old men. Each family of four to five workers produces annually not fewer than 3,000 ikons, the total earnings being from 200 to 400 rubles a year.

The ikon is painted by one workman, as in the government of Kursk, or it goes successively to many, as practiced in the government of Vladimir. In the latter case the first workman only lays the ground on the boards. Another paints the faces, the third the hands and drapery, while the fourth writes the superscriptions, and so on. Sometimes only the faces and hands are painted, and the remaining part of the image—the dress, crown, etc.—is covered with trimmings of stamped foil (rizy) variously ornamented. The painting of the images is very coarse, but this fact in no way impedes the spread of this branch of household industry, not only among the peasant population of Russia, but of that of Servia, Bulgaria and other Slavonic countries.—London News.

A Curious Phenomenon.

A singular phenomenon occurs on the borders of the Red sea at a place called Nakous, where intermittent underground sounds have been heard for an unknown number of centuries. It is situated at about half a mile's distance from the shore, whence a long reach of sands ascends rapidly to a height of 300 feet. This reach is about 80 feet wide and resembles an amphitheater, being walled in by low rocks. The sounds coming up from the ground at this place recur at intervals of about an hour. They at first resemble a low murmur, but ere long there is heard a loud knocking somewhat like the strokes of a bell, and which at the end of about five minutes becomes so strong as to agitate the sand.

The explanation of this curious phenomenon given by the Arabs is that there is a convent under the ground here, and that these sounds are those of the bell which the monks ring for prayers. So they call it Nakous, which means a bell. The Arabs affirm that the noise so frightens their camels when they hear it as to render them furious. Philosophers attribute the sound to suppressed volcanic action—probably to the bubbling of gas or vapors underground.—Newcastle (England) Chronicle.

An Anecdote of Gladstone.

The following anecdote appears in "Reminiscences of a Literary and Clerical Life." It was told at a dinner party by the great man himself. Mr. Gladstone said that all through his life he had been an excellent sleeper, and it was only on one occasion that he had ever lost a night's rest. All drew up their chairs more closely to hear the extraordinary matter that caused the premier to lie sleeplesss. They expected it might be some story of the greatest importance.

"I had been trying," he said, "to cut down an oak at Hagley and was getting on with it very well. Then I heard the dinner bell ring, and I was obliged to leave the work unfinished, although not much remained to be done. As I took my candle and went up stairs the wind had risen high and was making a great noise. I went to bed, and then the thought occurred to me that the wind would topple down my oak. The thought occurred to me again and again, and I really lost a good deal of a night's rest through that oak."

His Valuable Experience Account.

"When I lose anything," says a well known Maine business man, "I charge it to the account of experience. You may think it strange, but I believe the good sized sum I have already entered under that head is the most profitable money I ever spent. Adversity is the great teacher if we but heed her lessons. I lost $500 once in a transaction that gave me information and a proper respect for matters I had deemed of little account, from which I afterward made $5,000. I would not sell my experience account at my age for five times what it has cost me, for I shan't live long enough to get sharpened up again."—Lewiston Journal.

A Mohave Superstition.

The Mohave Indians of the far west have one curious superstition that is supposed to be of comparatively recent origin. They refuse to eat the flesh of the beaver and declare that who so eats beaver's flesh will have a swollen neck. An agent who lived for some time among the Mohaves conjectures that some of the Indians must have eaten the flesh of beavers poisoned for their skins and died with swollen necks. The memory has been handed down through the tribe, and no Mohave eats beaver's flesh since that day.—Philadelphia Press.

GUESSES.

You bring me the words of an old refrain
And ask me to make the meaning plain;
Three little people who wonder why
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.

But how would a guess from each one do?
So, Master Harry, and first come you:
For the ships on the sea, and the stars in the sky,
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.

And what do you think, with your dreamy air,
Little Blue Eyes on the cushion there?
For flowers to blossom and birds to fly,
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.

Last and least of the wondering three,
Here is wee Freddy, and what says he?
To play with marbles and kites to fly,
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.

Ah, well, a reason you each have found,
So now the riddle to me comes round:
And this is the guess I venture why
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.

Up the great hillside our feet to set
A little farther and farther yet;
To try forever and still to try,
The world is wide, and the heavens are high.
—Kate Putnam Osgood in St. Nicholas.

The Common View.

"Don't you believe the world is growing better?" asked the enthusiastic young woman.

"Well," replied the old gentleman, "the older people are less pig headed and prejudiced than were elderly people when I was a youth. But I do not think the young men of the present day have half the enterprise or judgment of those of my time."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Timely Bit of Advice.

In these times of grip and pneumonia it is of great importance that we should know where to look for a safe and sure remedy. A slight cold may become a serious one, the scarcely noticeable pain in the chest is too often the forerunner of pneumonia. The first cough many lead to consumption (a cough is always dangerous.) Never neglect a cold or cough for even one day, but get at once, as a safe and sure remedy, Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure, which is recommended on all sides. It should be kept in the house regularly to avoid delay when needed. It is sold at all the drug stores. d&w

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could rise my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 569 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

– Boys while fishing yesterday set the leaves on fire along the creek and burned up about five hundred dollars worth of cord wood and posts on the Capt. John Dysart farm east of this city. The Captain always thought Sunday fishing was wrong; now he is dead sure of it.

—Chicago papers announced the arrival of Hon. Sherwood in that city from the West. Mr. Dixon said to an interviewer that the populist were in great spirits in the west except through Colorado. In that state they will vote the Republican ticket the first opportunity.

—Married—Mr. Oscar Raymond, of Aurora, Ill, and Miss Katie Hastings, Dixon, Ill., were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Saturday, 3 p. m., June 9, 1894. Rev. O. H. Cessna officiating. The happy couple took the 4:10 p. m. train for Aurora, their future home.

—General Longstreet's tragic history of the war will be looked for with much interest. He was the greatest general on the Southern side and was about the only one to have the good sense and patriotism to accept the situation and become reconciled to the fact that the "lost cause" was really lost in this country.

—The promised game of base ball between Pawpaw and Dixon will be played at Pleasure Park on Tuesday, June 19. There should and will be a large attendance. The park is but a short distance from the business portion of the city and if we desire a good game here occasionally the boys should be patronized.

—The Rock River Farmers' Club will hold its annual June picnic at Maple Hill residence of A. G. Judd on Wednesday, the 20th inst. Let every member, with their family and well filled basket, turn out. A fine literary program is provided and it is the intention of the committee of arrangements to make this the best picnic of all. Dinner promptly at 12 o'clock.

—The Bridgewater Democrat, published at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, says: Near Yankton, is the most remarkable family on this continent, perhaps in the world. It consists of father, mother and twenty-four children and the mother of the brood is not yet thirty years old. She is a Norwegian woman and her husband is a Hoosier. The children were born in triplets and the oldest lot is under twelve years of age. All of them are boys but three, one set of triplets being girls.

—Yesterday was celebrated as Children's Day or Flower Sunday in nearly all the churches in this city. The exercises taking the place of either the regular morning or evening service, were such as are appropriate to the Sunday School, and were participated in by the children and young people. Songs and responsive exercises, dialogues, colloquies and recitations. Owing to the scarcity of flowers this season, no elaborate floral decorations were attempted, though the platforms of each place of worship exhibited a fair display of cut flowers in vases and also potted plants. But the principal attractions this year were the children themselves, and they all acquitted themselves with credit. Of course collections were taken for various benevolent purposes, and these were generally quite generous, considering the financial stringency through which we are passing.

—Loosh Crooker has at last been heard from. He was, up to just before the last presidential election, a rantankerous Republican, but he turned Democrat and voted the ticket from Cleveland to pathmaster, and then disappeared from public gaze. He is now, as a stateman, as quiet as his native town of Grand Detour. From the Mendota Bulletin we learn that our old friend Lucien Bonaparte Crooker has permanently retired from politics and hereafter expects to devote his time to the study of political economy and the mistakes of would-be office holders. It is true that he was once a rampant Republican, and it is equally true that he is now a Democrat, but his Democracy is mixed with worm-wood and gall. He voted the Democratic ticket in 1892 and ever since that time his newly adopted party has been going to the demnition bow-wowes, and this unfortunate man morbidly looks upon himself as a "Jonah" With this saddening conviction weighing upon his mind, Mr. Crooker has withdrawn from all political parties.

No Buddhists In India.

There are no Buddhists in India. There are many in Ceylon, and there is a sect of them in Nepal, an independent territory to the north on the borders of Buddhistic Tibet. The religion vanished from India in the early centuries of the Christian era. The neo-Brahmans set anti-Buddhas, so to speak, in the figures of Krishna, Mahadeva and Rama—demigods and idols of the great neo-Brahmanic religions, Vishnu worship and Siva worship—and these swept everything else before them until the Mohammedan conquest, and at the present day in one shape or another these forms of belief are adhered to by five-sixths of the population, the remainder being Mussulmans. The Buddhists are gone, though not without leaving behind them a rich legacy of philosophic thought and many monuments of their artistic genius. —Marion Crawford in Century.

"Treating" Customers.

The customer who is in the habit of taking solace out of the clay pipe may experience a beatitude through a choice Havana cigar which will allay discordant feelings and put him in good buying humor. But it must be handled cautiously by the traveler, and it must never appear that he goes about with a case full of the article intended expressly for the purpose of giving him an audience with the trade. The dealer is not to be bought, and if the offering of a cigar carries with it the remotest intimation of this sort the traveler had better pack his grip on the spot.—Traveling Salesman.

Her Hope.

Myrtylla—So you are going to marry old Mr. Goldrocks?

Ethylle—Yes, I am.

Myrtylla—Why, he's almost 60 years old and has buried six wives.

Ethylle—I know all that, but I do not doubt you remember the story of the pitcher that went to the well. I hope to break the spell.—Vogue.

Burglars Raid Nachusa.

Saturday night burglars visited a number of homes at Nachusa. They procured fifty-one dollars at Hiram Eicholtz, thirty from Ira Raffensberger, three from William Kime and were discovered by Ephriam Weigle in his house and driven away without loss.

"National Union."

Some of the certificates of Insurance for the members of those, who have been accepted in Dixon Council National Union, have been received. The council meets tomorrow night in Schuler's hall at 8 p. m. As there now remains but a short time in which to get in on the Charter of this popular American Beneficial order at cut rates, it is expected a large number of applications for memberships will be received.

June Magazines.

—In the Forum for June, Mr. Morton, the Secretary of Agriculture, writes on "Farmers, Fallacies, and Furrows." Mr. E. L. Godkin asks, "Who will Pay the Bills of Socialism?" The movement in favor of Woman-Suffrage is treated pro and con. by Mr. Matthew Hale, the celebrated lawyer of Albany, and Miss Mary A. Greene, herself a distinguished legal scholar, The May Forum contained an argument in favor of the taxation of church property. In the June number the Right Reverend J. M. Farley, Vicar General of the Catholic diocese of New York, presents arguments to show why church property should be exempt from taxation. Along with this is an article by Mr. E. M. Winston of the Chicago bar on "The Threatening Conflict with Romanism." The renewed agitation for bimetallism has prompted an article by Mr. Franklin H. Head, Secretary of the Chicago Bimetallic League, showing the need of an international monetary agreement. J. C. Hendrix, a member of Congress and the President of the largest banks in New York City, gives his reasons for regarding further agitation of the subject as a very expensive folly. Mr. Fred Perry Powers, one of the editors of the New York Journal of Commerce, explains the success of Christian missions in India in an article which is a reply to a recent article by Mr. Gandhi of Bombay. Col. Carroll, D. Wright, Superintendent of the Census, explains the result of the statistics of Sex, Marriage, and Divorce. Dr. E. R. L. Gould, who had charge of the relief-work in Baltimore last winter, explains how tramps were banished from that city and the unemployed were helped without the expenditure of any considerable sum of money. Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who was a member of the Peary Expedition, writes on "The Antarctic's challenge to the Explorer." President G. Stanley Hall's uncommonly suggestive educational articles are continued and are among the most inspiring of recent educational discussions. Thus the Forum sweeps over its usual wide range of topics—the condition of the farmers, a criticism of socialism, the woman suffrage movement, two aspects of the Roman Catholic question, higher education, a discussion of finance, missionary work, the conjugal conditions of our population, the solution of the tramp problem, and an expedition to the least known quarter of the world.

—The Popular Science Monthly furnishes both light and substantial fare in its number for June. The opening article by Dr. Andrew D. White, on The Final Effort of Theology, describes the hostile reception which theologians gave to Darwin's epoch-making book. The Mosquito country, which has been attracting a great deal of attention lately, is described in a fully illustrated article, by Dr. Robert N. Keely, jr., under the title, Nicaragua and the Mosquito Coast. The distinguished physiologist, Dr. Austin Flint, contributes an illustrated article on The Eye as an Optical Instrument. Of special interest to parents and teachers is the essay by L. Hughes, entitled The Kindergarten a Natural System of Education. The author of Astronomy with an Opera Glass, Mr. Garrett P. Serviss, has in this number the first of a series of illustrated papers under the general title Pleasures of the Telescope Dr. T. D. Crothers asks, Should Prohibitory Laws be Abolished?' Prof. F. W. Woll writes on Dairy Schools and Dairy Products, describing, with four full-page views, the pioneer dairy school in the United States, now four years old. There is another installment of A. R. Wallace's paper on the Ice Age and It's Work, and a biograhical sketch, with portrait of Gerard Troost, for many years State Geologist of Tennessee.

—Godey's Magazine for June is beautiful in illustration and brilliant in contents. The Baroness Althea Salvador, lady in waiting upon the queen of Holland, contributes a most interesting article upon the Paris Salon of 1894 with many illustrations of the artists and their works. The serial is a story of Munich life called Chance, by Leon Mead, and Frederick W. Seward continues the recollections of his father in Seward's West India Cruise. All these are profusely illustrated. The short stories are by John Habberton, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Edgar Fawcett, Albert Hardy, Julia Magruder and William A. Ayres. S. Parks Cadman has an essay, Hary Edward Miller a sketch, and the poems are by Frank Dempster Sherman, Martha McCulloch Williams, Arthur Chamberlain, Edward Stratton, Emma J. Gompf, Norma Muir and Coggshall Macy. All the departments are excellent, the famous Godey fashions appearing this month under the taking title of The Passing Show.

The Celebrated Cherry Sisters

Will repeat their entertainment soon and the full program will be given. THE TELEGRAPH says it will take forty eight hours, but the Cherry Sisters think they can shorten the time. Such men as the City Marshal will not be allowed in the house and will be fined $20 if found there. The best of order will prevail.

Manager Cherry Sisters.

We regret that the Cherry Sisters are out with our usually gallant city marshall. Perhaps being strangers they don't know the rotund youth. There is a mistake somewhere.

A Wonderful Performence.

Prof. Roche, the celebrated hypnotist, has been at the Alexander opera house all this week, and the feats he is performing are wonderful. He has new subjects each night, all volunteers from the audience, and the antics he make some of the boys cut up are ludicrous in the extreme, and keep the audience in an uproar of laughter most of the time. Each night he invites all who want to go onto the stage, and those who do not want to act as subjects can witness every movement and see that there is no "fake" about the work. Prof. Roche opens his entertainment with a very instructive talk on what he terms the science of hypnotism. Of the large number of well known business men who have sat on the stage every evening there is not one who denies that Prof. Roche is honest in his work and that he exercises the influence over the will of his subjects which he says he does. We can say to our readers who have not yet attended one of these entertainments that they should go this evening or tomorrow evening, and if they are not well pleased and feel as though they have learned something, we miss our guess.—Wausau Herald, March 2, 1894.

Prof. Roche will be at the Opera House all this week commencing tonight and all who enjoy a good laugh should attend; prices 15, 25, 35 cents.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC:

In order to place myself in the right light before the people I wish to state that I have called on some who have stated positively that they have no dogs, when on the contrary I have conclusive proof that they have; and I wish here to say for their benefit and for the benefit of others who I shall yet call on that I have prepared a list of all those owning dogs, and all those refusing to give in such, will find them added to their tax list next spring. This is one of my duties and I propose to carry it out.
